

Inigo Management Liability Offering Summary

We are hiring market-leading underwriters and claims management to provide primary and low excess capacity for US and international public companies. We are able to begin quoting from early February for risks incepting on the 1st March 2021. We will place a strong emphasis on a joint approach between underwriting and claims management to provide consistent underwriting and collaborative claims handling.

We understand the D&O market is challenging right now and clients need options. We will embrace complex risks, working with brokers to provide solutions that combine a market-leading claims handling and underwriting team to provide a sustainable partnership for the long term.
